General Instructions for paper submission

Generally papers should not exceed 3000 words including references, however primary research papers may contain a maximum of 5000 words. Short contributions of 1500 words may also be sent.

All contributions should indicate 4/5 keywords and have an abstract less than 200 words.

Manuscripts should be submitted on one side of A4 size paper.

Heading 14 Arial narrow bold.

Sub-heading 11 Arial narrow bold.

Body text 10 Arial.

Endnote 9 Arial narrow.

1.5 Line spacing and leaving 1.2 inch margin space on all sides of the paper.

Referencing should follow the Harvard system (Author's surname, followed by publication year in the main text; Bibliography in alphabetic order compiled at the end of the paper). Endnotes can be given if desired by putting reference number in the text in 9 point (Arial narrow) superscript.

For illustration use number consecutively; Fig. 1, Fig 2 etc in bold (9 points). Compose the page with illustrations as that of the main text, keeping similar margins. Width of the illustrations should not exceed 6 inches (width of the column). Preferred width will be 3 or 6 inches. Original illustrations must be provided separately in soft copy (300 dpi and JPEG format).

Submission of a paper to Protibesh will be taken to imply that it presents original unpublished work, not under consideration for publication elsewhere. Authors of all forms of contributions are required to sign a copyright agreement form that will transfer the copyright for their works to the publishers.

Submission of all manuscripts should be in the form of three hard copies and a soft copy in CD (including figures & photographs) with author's name, designation, contact address(es) including e-mail address.

International contributors may submit soft copies in MS-Word format through e-mail.
